THOS.WANAMAKER. PHILA. MAGNATE,

Well as Business and a Newspaper Owner.

Thursday from Egypt, where he had been travelling with his mother in search of health.

PHILADELPHIA, March 2 .- Mr. Wanamaker had long been a sufferer from rheumatic gout, complicated with other ailments. Mr. Wanamaker for a long time had not been feeling well, and about the first of the year sailed in Egypt in search of health. On Feb. 1 public announceemtn was made that Mr. Wanamaker had retired from the firm of John Wanamaker. The reason for his retirement was not given, but it was generally believed his ill-health prompted it.

While it was known that Mr. Wanamaker was quite ill, it was not be lieved that his condition was danger-ous until yesterday, when the family received a cablegram stating that he was dving. His mother, his sister, Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton, and his nice Miss Fernanda Wanamaker, the daughter of his brother, Rodman Wanamakor, were with him when he died.

Thomas B. Wanamaker was born this city, and was in his forty-eighth year. He graduated from Princeton and soon afterward became a member of the firm of John Wanamaker, and was the executive head in the absence of his father. He was interested many enterwises and was the proprie tor of the Philadelphia North Ameri can, having purchased the newspaper from Clayton McMichael in 1899. Mr. Wanamaker leaves a widow an

An Oft-Repeated Comment You Hear Among Throngs of MACY Shoppers.

Financial flurries are generally supposed to have a bad effect on retail businesses. Folks either buy LESS or MAKE THEIR MONEY DO GREATER WORK. At such times this Macy business always shows its GREATEST GAINS, because this Macy strictly CASH system develops the FULLEST PURCHASING POWER of money.

The increased business is apparent even to the casual visitor, whose astonishment at the size of the shopping crowds here finds expression in, "Well, this doesn't look like 'hard times!" When money is "easy" it is apt to be spent with a free hand. Prices don't count so much. Specialty shops, with their HIGHER PRICES for the SAME SORTS OF MERCHANDISE WE SELL, reap a harvest, mainly because they offer an air of quietness and freedom from the crowds that characterize this 80-department business.

But in periods of depression, when prices DO count, that air of quietness is much LESS attractive than Macy prices—and the Macy business spurts accordingly. At ANY time money here has greater purchasing power than it has in any other store.

We sell for cash only; we give no discounts, pay no commissions, sanction no concerts, theatrical devices or schemes of any sort that add to the cost of collecting and distributing merchandise.

We are STOREKEEPERS! Collecting and distributing merchandise along lines of least resistance—CASH lines—is the function of our organization.

That we "keep store" to the liking of a great army of people is evidenced by the throngs which inspire the remark:—"Well, this doesn't look like 'hard times!""
